

PREMIER HIGH SCHOOLS SPECIAL EDUCATION OPERATING PROCEDURES: FREE APPROPRIATE PUBLIC EDUCATION

Premier High Schools' Board Policy along with these Special Education Operating Procedures constitute the Policies and Procedures of Premier High Schools, designed to be consistent with the State policies and procedures developed pursuant to the IDEA Premier High Schools' Special Education Operating Procedures are not to be for the purpose of creating a requirement that is not otherwise imposed by the Individuals with Disabilities Education Improvement Act ("IDEA"), together with its implementing federal regulations, state statutes and rules, as they shall from time to time be amended, and shall not be construed to create a higher standard than that established by IDEA. These Special Education Operating Procedures will be posted on ResponsiveEd's website. These Special Education Operating Procedures should be interpreted consistent with the IDEA. Premier High Schools' Special Education Operating Procedures are reviewed and updated, as needed, on at least an annual basis. Premier High Schools will make timely changes to policies and procedures in response to IDEA amendments, regulatory or rule changes, changes to state policy, or new legal interpretation as are necessary to bring Premier High Schools into compliance with the requirements of IDEA. Premier High Schools maintains systems to ensure that all students with disabilities enrolled in the Charter, regardless of the severity of their disabilities, and who are in need of special education and related services, are identified, located, and evaluated and provided a free appropriate public education. Premier High Schools maintains systems to ensure that students with disabilities and their parents are afforded the procedural safeguards required under the IDEA (and its implementing federal regulations, state statutes and rules) including with respect to the confidentiality of records and personally identifiable information.

What is a free appropriate public education (FAPE)?

Every eligible Premier High Schools student with a disability is entitled to a free appropriate public education. Each student's Individualized Education Program (IEP) is the centerpiece of the Charter's plan for providing appropriate special education and related services that are reasonably calculated to enable the student to make progress appropriate in light of the student's unique and individual circumstances.¹

PRACTICE GUIDE—The District shall ensure that the documents produced at a student's ARD committee meeting reflect a consideration of the following 4 factors:

- The student's IEP is individualized and based on the student's assessment and performance. For example, goals and objects are appropriately ambitious in light of the student's present levels of academic achievement and functional performance. The student's program conforms to current FIE findings and recommendations.
- The program is implemented in the student's least restrictive environment (LRE). For example, the ARD committee may review the supplementary aides and services that a student may have received in the general education setting, together with the placement recommendations in a student's most recent FIE.
- The services are provided in a coordinated and collaborative manner by the key stakeholders. For example, the ARD committee may obtain parental consent to discuss a student's services with any relevant outside provider or private evaluator. Campus staff and administrators may document any staff meetings regarding the student and her or his educational program. Individual conferences may be held with the parent explaining assessments or other programmatic elements and may promote collaborations, and these efforts are also documented.
- The student must demonstrate positive academic and non-academic benefits. For example, the ARD committee may consider the student's achievement on state-mandated assessments, District-wide assessments, benchmarks, grades, progress reports, evaluation results, and participation and engagement in the educational environment, including, as appropriate, extracurricular activities. Behavioral progress as demonstrated by the student's acquisition of social and behavioral skills that may be included in counseling or social skills programming.

How is a student's IEP developed?

For each eligible student with a disability, the Special Education teacher or the ARD Facilitator shall establish an ARD committee.³ Each student's ARD committee shall include the following participants:⁴

- a parent or adult student;⁵
- a general education teacher of the student if the student is or may be participating in the general education environment.⁶ The student's general education teacher, shall, to the extent appropriate, participate in the development of the student's IEP, including the determination of appropriate positive behavioral interventions and supports and other strategies for the child, supplementary aids and services, program modifications, and support for school personnel;

- a special education teacher of the student. The special education teacher or provider who is a member of the student's ARD committee should be the person who is responsible for implementing the IEP. For example, if the student's disability is a speech impairment, the special education teacher or special education provider could be the speech language pathologist;⁷
- a representative of the Charter who is qualified to provide, or supervise the provision of, specially designed instruction and is knowledgeable about the general education curriculum and about the availability of Charter resources. The Charter's representative may be the Director of Special Education or campus designee or a campus administrator acting on behalf of the Charter. The choice of the representative is at the discretion of the Charter, so long as the Charter's representative meets these criteria;⁸
- an individual who can interpret the instructional implications of evaluation results, such as a Licensed Specialist in School Psychology (LSSP) or an Educational Diagnostician;
- at the discretion of the parent, guardian or the Charter, other individuals who have knowledge or special expertise regarding the student, including related services personnel as appropriate; and
- whenever appropriate, the student.

The ARD committee shall also include the following additional participants, as appropriate:

- with the consent of a parent, guardian or a student who has reached the age of majority, a representative of any participating agency likely to be responsible for providing or paying for transition services. The Special Education teacher, to the extent practicable under the circumstances, shall document efforts to obtain parental consent for the participation of an individual from the appropriate agency prior to or at the beginning of a student's ARD committee meeting wherein transition services will be discussed;
- a representative from the Charter's Career and Technical Education (CTE) when the student's ARD committee is considering placement of a student in CTE;

if the student is identified as an emergent bilingual student, a professional staff member who is on the Charter's Language Proficiency Assessment Committee in accordance with Premier High Schools Policy.

- if the student is a student with suspected or documented deaf-blindness, a teacher who is certified in the education of students with visual impairments and a teacher who is certified in the education of students who are deaf or hard of hearing.⁹

Required members must be present for the ARD committee meeting unless properly excused by the parent or guardian and the Charter. IDEA requires different procedures for different types of excusals, including differentiating between circumstances in which parental consent is required and when an agreement is required to excuse a mandatory ARD committee member from attending an ARD committee meeting. Therefore, Premier High Schools has different procedures in place for the different types of excusals.¹⁰ The two types of excusals triggering the excusal requirements are: (1) when a required ARD committee member's area of the curriculum or expertise is not being modified or discussed; and (2) when a required ARD committee member's area of the curriculum or expertise is being modified or discussed.

With the first type of excusal, parent or guardian and Premier High Schools agreement is required; however, Premier High Schools is given wide latitude about the content of the agreement to excuse a required ARD committee member from the meeting.¹¹ With the second type of excusal, parent or guardian consent is also required, and the member must submit in writing, to the parent or guardian and the ARD committee, input into the development of the IEP prior to the meeting. When consent is required, the Special Education teacher will ensure that all of the IDEA consent requirements are satisfied, including by providing the parent or guardian with appropriate and sufficient information to ensure that the parent or guardian fully understands that the parent or guardian is consenting to excuse an ARD committee member from attending an ARD meeting in which the member's area of the curriculum or expertise is being changed or discussed. The parent or guardian must also be informed that if the parent does not consent, the ARD committee meeting must be held with that ARD committee member in attendance.¹² The Special Education teacher or the ARD Facilitator shall document all ARD committee meeting participants, including any member who is excused prior to or during the meeting, and shall verify that the excusal procedures have been followed.

PRACTICE GUIDE—If a parent brings an attorney to an ARD committee meeting without notice to the District, the ARD committee may reschedule the ARD committee meeting to a time and date that the District’s counsel may attend the meeting in-person or by virtual means.

Within 30 calendar days from the date of the completion of the student’s initial special education evaluation report, the student’s ARD committee shall make its decisions regarding the student’s initial eligibility, and, if appropriate, her or his individualized education program (IEP) and placement.¹⁴

At a duly constituted ARD committee meeting that is conducted after at least 5 school days-notice to the student’s parent or guardian, the student’s ARD committee, including the student’s parent or guardian, shall develop an IEP, consistent with this Operating Procedure, below, by considering—¹⁵

- the student’s strengths; the concerns of the parents or guardians for enhancing the education of the student; the results of the student’s initial or most recent evaluation; and the present academic, developmental, and functional needs of the student;
- in the case of a student whose behavior impedes the student’s learning or that of others, the use of positive behavioral interventions and supports, and other strategies to address that behavior;
- the language needs of a student with emergent bilingual abilities as those needs relate to the student’s IEP;
- providing for instruction in Braille and the use of Braille unless the ARD committee determines, after an evaluation of the student’s reading and writing skills, needs, and appropriate reading and writing media (including an evaluation of the student’s future needs for instruction in Braille or the use of Braille), consistent with the Charter’s Evaluation Procedure Operating Procedure, that instruction in Braille or the use of Braille is not appropriate for the student;
- the communication needs of the student, including, for a student who is deaf or hard of hearing, the student’s opportunities for direct communications with peers and professional personnel in the child’s language and communication mode, academic level, and full range of needs, including opportunities for direct instruction in the student’s language and communication mode; and

How does the Charter develop an IEP for a newly enrolled student who had an IEP from another public school?

Students who enroll during the summer. When a student with a disability has an IEP in place from a previous in- or out-of-state school district and enrolls in Premier High Schools during the summer, Premier High Schools implements the IEP from the previous public school district in full on the first day of class of the new school year or must convene an ARD committee meeting during the summer to revise the student's IEP for implementation on the first day of class of the new school year.¹⁶

Students who enroll during the school year with an IEP in effect from another public school in Texas. When a student transfers to Premier High Schools from another public school in Texas, in the same school year and the parents verify that the student was receiving special education services in the previous school district or the previous school district verifies in writing or by telephone that the student was receiving special education services, the Special Education teacher will consult with the student's parents to provide FAPE, including services comparable to those described in the child's IEP from the previous public school.¹⁷ No later than 30 school days from the date the student is verified as being a student eligible for special education services the Special Education teacher or the ARD Facilitator shall ensure that the ARD committee is convened to adopt the IEP from the previous public school or develops, adopts and implements a new IEP consistent with this Operating Procedure, below.¹⁸

Students who enroll during the school year with an IEP in effect from another public school outside of Texas. When a student transfers to Premier High Schools from a public school district in a state other than Texas, in the same school year and the parents verify that the student was receiving special education services in the previous school district or the previous school district verifies in writing or by telephone that the student was receiving special education services, the Special Education teacher or the ARD Facilitator will consult with the student's parents to provide FAPE, including services comparable to those described in the child's IEP from the previous public school.¹⁹

The Special Education teacher, the ARD Facilitator, or the Special Education Coordinator will determine whether an evaluation is necessary consistent with the Charter's Child Find Duty and Evaluation Procedure Operating Procedures.^{20 21} If the Special Education teacher or the ARD Facilitator determines that an evaluation is not necessary, the Special Education teacher or

What is in a student's IEP?

Parent and Student Concerns.²⁶ The Special Education teacher or the ARD Facilitator shall ensure that the ARD committee elicits, considers and documents the concerns of the parent or guardian for enhancing the education of her or his child. This may be reflected in a concise statement summarizing the educational, social, behavioral and/or emotional concerns of the parent or guardian and student, as appropriate.

Student Strengths and Relevant Evaluation Results.²⁷ The Special Education teacher or the ARD Facilitator shall ensure that the student's IEP identifies the assessment data considered by the ARD committee, including both state and Charter-wide assessment results, as well as relevant information from any campus. Privately obtained assessments provided by the student's parent or guardian shall be considered in any decision made with respect to the provision of FAPE to the student if it meets Charter criteria.²⁸ To the extent appropriate, the student's general education performance shall also be documented. This summary shall also include an explanation of how the student's disability or disabilities impact the student's progress and participation in the general education curriculum.²⁹

PRACTICE GUIDE—Designated staff may follow up with the student's teachers to ensure that appropriate data will be prepared for the ARD Committee's consideration. The ARD Committee will ensure District evaluations are current. When a parent provides the District with a copy of a privately obtained evaluation, the designated staff member should prepare a consent for the release of confidential information form for the parent to sign.

Present Levels of Academic Achievement and Functional Performance (PLAAFP).³⁰ The Special Education teacher or the ARD Facilitator shall coordinate with the student's relevant ARD committee members, general and special education teachers, and/or related service providers, to ensure, through their preparation and participation in the ARD committee meeting and through the participation of the parent or guardian, that the student's IEP contains an accurate description of how the student is performing in the areas of educational and functional need. The statement of present levels in a student's IEP should convey sufficient information to provide clear levels of the student's current academic and functional performance.

PRACTICE GUIDE—Designated staff should inform teachers to bring appropriate data to support the development of the student's PLAAFP statements; current assessments should be considered and reviewed as appropriate, including but not limited to behavioral and academic data, such as benchmark assessments, teacher made tests, or other classroom based assessments. Teachers should also be encouraged to bring information and data describing how the student's disability impacts their functional performance in the areas of the curriculum. For example, in the area of reading, a teacher may make note of whether a student tracks text from left to right or holds reading material correctly.

Measurable Annual Goals. The Special Education teacher or the ARD Facilitator shall ensure that a student's IEP, as developed by the ARD committee includes:

- a statement of measurable annual goals, including academic and functional goals.
- goals designed to meet the student's needs that result from the student's disability to enable the student to be involved and make progress in the general education curriculum, and to meet each of the student's other educational needs that result from the student's disability.
- For students who take alternate assessments aligned to alternate achievement standards, a description of benchmarks³¹ and short term objectives.³²

PRACTICE GUIDE—The ARD committee may include goals, as appropriate, in any academic and nonacademic skills deficit area or areas of educational need identified by the student’s ARD committee as part of a student’s initial evaluation or any subsequent reevaluation. The ARD committee may ensure individualization by avoiding requiring all students with disabilities to master every TEK. Rather, the ARD committee may look to the evaluation and analyze how the student’s disability impacts the student’s rate of progress so that appropriately challenging goals may be developed. To help ensure the measurability of annual goals, the student’s objectives and benchmarks may describe target behavior, conditions, and outcomes, as well as address the data collection strategy for measuring and documenting progress. The ARD committee may document the ARD committee’s consideration of the services from the prior school year and the progress on the prior annual goals, objectives, and benchmarks when developing the student’s current measurable annual goals, and consider and document the unique circumstances of the student’s disability and past rate of progress when crafting the student’s current IEP to develop appropriately challenging goals and objectives.

Supplementary Aids and Services. The Special Education teacher or the ARD Facilitator shall ensure that the student’s IEP, as developed by the ARD committee, includes a statement of needed supplementary aids and services (aids, services, and other supports) in regular education classes, other education-related settings, and in extracurricular and nonacademic settings, to enable the student to be educated with non-disabled students to the maximum extent appropriate.³⁴

As part of supplementary aids and services, the IEP may include a list or a chart of all accommodations, behavioral or academic, determined by the student’s ARD committee to be appropriate to meet the educational needs of the student in the general education setting.

PRACTICE GUIDE—In addition to the FIE, the ARD committee may reference assessment data which could include classroom observations to support the educational need for these services, as appropriate, and consider any relevant peer reviewed research as appropriate.

- Behavioral Supports and Interventions.³⁵ In the case of a student with a disability whose behavior impedes the student’s own learning or that of others, the Special Education teacher or the ARD Facilitator shall ensure that the student's ARD committee considers the use of positive behavioral interventions and supports, and other strategies, to address that behavior, and includes as part of the IEP any needed interventions, supports and strategies.³⁶ The student's ARD committee may determine that a behavior improvement plan or a behavioral intervention plan (BIP) is appropriate for a student. In such instances, the ARD committee determines the appropriate components of a BIP for the student's individual needs; there are no formal requirements for a BIP.³⁷ If the student's ARD committee determines that a BIP is appropriate, the BIP shall be included as part of the student's IEP and provided to each responsible teacher.³⁸ If a BIP is included as part of a student's IEP the Special Education teacher or the ARD Facilitator shall ensure that the ARD committee reviews the BIP at least annually and more frequently if appropriate to address the safety of the student or others, or changes in the student's circumstances that may impact the student's behavior.³⁹ Circumstances that may impact the student's behavior may include but are not limited to: a change of placement to a different educational setting; an increase or persistence in disciplinary actions for similar types of behavior; a pattern of unexcused absences; or unauthorized unsupervised departure from an educational setting.⁴⁰ Students will be subject to the Student Code of Conduct (SCOC) consistent with students without disabilities, provided that any discipline under the SCOC shall be subject to the timelines and protections provided to a student with a disability under the IDEA, including holding an ARD Committee (Manifestation Determination Review) meeting in connection with any "disciplinary change of placement" in accordance with the Charter's policy.

- Specially Designed Instruction.⁴¹ The Special Education teacher or the ARD Facilitator shall ensure that the student's IEP as developed by the ARD committee includes a statement of needed special education services. Special education means "specially designed instruction, at no cost to the parents, to meet the unique needs of a child with a disability."⁴² Specially designed instruction means—
 - "adapting, as appropriate to the needs of an eligible child under this part, the content, methodology, or delivery of instruction-
 - To address the unique needs of the child that result from the child's disability; and
 - To ensure access of the child to the general curriculum, so that the child can meet the educational standards within the jurisdiction of the public agency that apply to all children."⁴³

When developing specifically designed instruction, the student’s ARD committee shall consider—

- How content, methodology and delivery of instruction will be modified from the general curriculum.
- Student performance criteria that accurately and appropriately evidences the modification of the content of the performance or assessment.
- Program Modifications and Supports for School Personnel. The Special Education teacher or the ARD Facilitator shall ensure that the student’s IEP as developed by the ARD committee includes a statement of any needed program modifications or supports for campus and other District personnel that will be provided to enable the student: to advance appropriately toward attaining the annual goals in the student’s IEP; to be involved in and make progress in the general education curriculum; to participate in extracurricular and other nonacademic activities⁴⁵; and to be educated and participate with other students with disabilities and non-disabled students.⁴⁶

PRACTICE GUIDE—The District may identify a person knowledgeable about specialized resources or trainings available for teachers to assist with this provision.

- Related Services. The Special Education teacher or the ARD Facilitator shall ensure that the student’s IEP as developed by the ARD committee includes any needed related services and the projected date for the beginning of the student’s related services, together with the anticipated frequency, location and duration of the student’s related services. Related services means transportation and such developmental, corrective, and other supportive services as are required to assist a student with a disability to benefit from special education, and includes: speech-language pathology and audiology services; interpreting services; psychological services; physical and occupational therapy; recreation, including therapeutic recreation; early identification and assessment of disabilities in children; counseling services, including rehabilitation counseling; orientation and mobility services; and medical services for diagnostic or evaluation purposes. Related services also include school health services and school nurse services, social work services in schools, and parent counseling and training.⁴⁷ The Special Education teacher or the ARD Facilitator shall further ensure that the IEP developed by the ARD committee includes sufficient information about the amount and type of services, so that it is clear to the parent, as well as to the student's related service providers and teachers, what level of support the student is to receive.⁴⁸

- Consideration of Strategies for Students with Autism. The Special Education teacher or the ARD Facilitator will ensure that for a student eligible for special education and related services as a student with Autism, the student's ARD committee considers the eleven strategies as described in the Charter's Autism IEP Supplement, and includes as part of the IEP any strategies deemed necessary and appropriate for the student.⁴⁹ Those strategies deemed necessary and appropriate for the student may be incorporated throughout the IEP and/or described in a supplement.
- Transition Services. Beginning not later than the first IEP to be in effect when a student turns 14 and then updated annually, the Special Education teacher or the ARD Facilitator shall ensure that the student's IEP as developed by the student's ARD committee includes:
 - appropriate measurable postsecondary goals based upon age-appropriate transition assessments related to training, education, employment, and, where appropriate, independent living skills; and
 - the transition services (including courses of study) needed to assist the student in reaching those goals.⁵⁰

The Special Education teacher or the ARD Facilitator shall further ensure that the student's ARD committee complies with Premier High Schools Policy ("Special Education Transition Services") regarding the procedures for including representatives from the Texas Workforce Commission on a student's ARD committee.

- State and Charter-wide Assessment. The Special Education teacher or the ARD Facilitator shall ensure that the student's IEP as developed by the ARD committee includes a statement of any individual appropriate accommodations that are necessary to measure the academic achievement and functional performance of the student on State and Charter-wide assessments. The ARD Committee will follow TEA guidelines when determining how a student will participate in the Texas Statewide Assessment Program, including how to select allowable accommodations, and in deciding whether a student with a disability meets the criteria to be assessed based on modified or alternate academic achievement standards. If the ARD committee determines that the student must take an alternate assessment instead of a particular regular State or Charter wide assessment of student achievement, Special Education teacher or the ARD Facilitator shall ensure as appropriate that the student's IEP as developed by the ARD committee includes a statement of why the student cannot participate in the regular assessment and why the particular alternate assessment selected is appropriate for the student.

- Placement in the Least Restrictive Environment and the Justification for any Removal from General Education.
- Extended School Year (ESY) Services. Whenever appropriate, the student's ARD committee shall determine whether the student requires an extended school year based on a regression-recoupment analysis. The need for ESY services shall be documented from formal and/or informal evaluations provided by the Charter or the student's parents or guardians. The documentation must demonstrate that in one or more critical areas addressed in the student's current IEP goals and objectives, the student has exhibited, or reasonably may be expected to exhibit, severe or substantial regression that cannot be recouped within a reasonable period of time. Severe or substantial regression means that the student has been, or will be, unable to maintain one or more acquired critical skills in the absence of ESY services.⁵¹ It is important to remember that ARD committee determinations regarding ESY services are prospective in nature and not intended to make up for past denials of FAPE, if any.⁵²

PRACTICE GUIDE—Designated special education staff may coordinate with the student's teacher(s) regarding collection of data regarding regression and recoupment at appropriate intervals.

- Response to Bullying or Harassment. Following an investigation of a student with a disability who is an alleged victim or perpetrator of bullying or harassment in violation of the Charter's policies, an ARD committee meeting shall be held to review the conduct and to consider the impact, if any, of the bullying conduct on the provision of FAPE to the student.⁵³ The Charter will provide notice of an ARD committee meeting in collaboration with the Campus Administrator.

PRACTICE GUIDE—Draft IEPs may be prepared prior to the ARD committee meeting at the discretion of the District. However, if the District elects to prepare a draft IEP prior to an ARD committee meeting including in response to a parent's written request for a draft, the District or designee shall clarify to the parent or guardian at the start of the ARD committee meeting and in any written correspondence with the parent providing the proposed draft IEP, that the draft IEP is the District's preliminary recommendations for review and revision with the parent at the ARD meeting. The District's decision to prepare or to decline to prepare a draft IEP at a parent's request is an administrative decision at the discretion of the District.

How does the Charter use Prior Written Notice (PWN) to inform parents about the decisions of a student's ARD committee?

Prior Written Notice (PWN) ⁵⁵ shall include the following—

- A description of the action proposed or refused by the Charter.
- An explanation of why the Charter proposes or refuses to take an action.
- A description of each evaluation procedure, assessment, record, or report the agency used as a basis for the proposed or refused action.
- A statement that the parents of a student with a disability have protection under TEA's Notice of Procedural Safeguards.
- Sources for parents to contact to obtain assistance in understanding the provisions of a Prior Written Notice, such as the Education Service Center or TEA.
- A description of other options that the ARD committee considered and the reasons why those options were rejected.
- A description of other factors that are relevant to the Charter's proposal or refusal.

Minutes or Deliberations. The written statement of an IEP shall document the decisions of the student's ARD committee with respect to issues discussed at each ARD committee meeting or IEP Amendment. While deliberations are not required, the Special Education teacher or the ARD Facilitator shall ensure that the documents from an ARD committee meeting and the written statement of an IEP include the date of the meeting; the name, position, and signature of each member participating in the meeting; and an indication of whether the student's parents or guardians, the adult student, if applicable, and the administrator agreed or disagreed with the decisions of the committee.⁵⁶

Documentation of the decisions of the student's ARD committee may be done through preparation of ARD committee meeting deliberations or minutes. Prior Written Notice (PWN) shall be issued after each ARD committee meeting. A completed PWN would satisfy the Charter's obligation to document the decisions of a student's ARD committee. Premier High Schools may use the IEP and the deliberations or minutes as part of the PWN so long as the document(s) the parent or guardian receives meet all the requirements of prior written notice.⁵⁷ The deliberations and/or the Prior Written Notice may be used to establish how the Charter is providing a FAPE to a student and collaborating with a parent or to document other factors relevant to a student's IEP.

PRACTICE GUIDE—When preparing the documents from the ARD committee meeting, the District collaborates with parents concerning the form and content of these documents; however, final decisions concerning the form and content of written documents is an administrative decision within the discretion of the District. There is no requirement to read the minutes aloud at the end of an ARD committee meeting or to project the documents at issue on a screen. If there is a dispute about the contents, the District may attach a Parent Addendum to the student's IEP. The Parent Addendum would not be binding on the District or the student's ARD committee; however, the Parent Addendum would become part of the student's educational records maintained by the District.

- IDEA does not require that the Charter include additional information in a student's IEP beyond what is expressly required under 20 U.S.C. § 1414; 34 C.F.R. § 300.320 (d)(1). By way of example and not limitation, a student's IEP does not need to include—
 - The identity of specific teachers or specific educational methodology.⁵⁸
 - Extracurricular activities unrelated to the student's IEP.⁵⁹
 - Services that are unrelated to the student's special education program.⁶⁰

How does a student's ARD committee make a placement decision?⁶¹

To the maximum extent appropriate, students with disabilities must be educated with students who are nondisabled, and special classes, separate schooling, or other removal of students with disabilities from the general educational environment occurs only if the nature or severity of the disability is such that education in general education classes, with the use of supplementary aids and services, cannot be achieved satisfactorily.⁶² Once a student's IEP is fully developed, the Special Education teacher or the ARD Facilitator shall ensure that the student's ARD committee considers, and the student's IEP documents, a placement determination based upon the individual needs of the particular student and the appropriate and least restrictive educational environment in which the IEP can be implemented. When making a placement decision, the Special Education teacher or the ARD Facilitator shall ensure that the ARD committee considers a continuum of alternative placements.

⁶² 34 C.F.R. § 300.114 (a)

PRACTICE GUIDE—Location of a particular classroom or program is an administrative decision not within the purview of an ARD committee. Location is different from the determination of an individual student’s special education placement. The location of classrooms and programs is an administrative decision within the discretion of the District. School district administration may centralize the location of certain programs to efficiently use the District’s resources in the service of students with disabilities.

What does it mean to have a continuum of placement options for students? The Charter shall make available a continuum of alternative placements listed in the definition of special education under 34 C.F.R. § 300.38 (e.g., instruction in regular classes, special classes, special schools, home instruction, and instruction in hospitals and institutions), and make provision for supplementary services to be provided in conjunction with placement in the general education setting to facilitate such placement.⁶⁴ The IEP, evaluations and other relevant data guide the ARD committee in making placement decisions.

PRACTICE GUIDE—The ARD committee may determine that additional evaluations, updated assessment or other information are needed to make a placement decision. Consider having the student’s evaluation team review the continuum of placements within the District for potential recommendations to the student’s ARD committee, as appropriate. The student’s ARD committee shall ensure that the student is not removed from education in age-appropriate general education classrooms solely because of needed modifications in the general curriculum.

Before moving a student to a more restrictive environment⁶⁵, the student’s ARD committee shall consider ---

- Has the Charter taken steps to accommodate the student with disabilities in general education?
- Were these efforts sufficient or token?
- Will the student receive an educational benefit from general education?
- What will the student’s overall educational experience be in the general education environment, balancing the benefits of general and special education?

- What effect does the student's presence have on the general education classroom environment? ⁶⁶

PRACTICE GUIDE—The ARD committee will take steps to accommodate the student in general education and may document attempted services and accommodations. The District is not required to provide every conceivable aid or service to assist the student. General education instructors are not required to devote all or most of their time to one student or to modify the general education program beyond recognition. Data may be collected to determine the student's overall educational experience in the general education environment. Should the student's presence be so disruptive in the general education classroom that the education of other students is significantly impaired, then the needs of the student with a disability cannot be met in that environment.

Residential Treatment Centers (RTCs) or private residential programs are included in the continuum of placements.⁶⁷ The Charter is not required to place a student in a private residential program unless such placement is necessary to provide special education and related services. In order for a residential placement to be appropriate under the IDEA, the placement must be (1) essential in order for the student to receive a meaningful educational benefit, and (2) primarily oriented toward enabling the student to obtain an education. The Charter is not required to bear the costs of private residential services that are primarily aimed at treating a student's medical difficulties or enabling the student to participate in non-educational activities.^{68 69}

PRACTICE GUIDE—The student’s ARD committee will follow and ensure the criteria are met for any residential educational placement for a student with disabilities at the onset of any consideration for such a placement. Before a student’s ARD committee places a student in a Residential Treatment Center, the District must initiate and conduct a meeting to develop an IEP placing the student at the private residential setting. A designee of the ARD committee will ensure that a representative of the private school or facility attends the meeting. If the representative cannot attend, the District will use other methods to ensure participation by the private school or facility, including individual or conference telephone calls. Initiating the RTC placement process with TEA is among the steps for ensuring the availability of RTC as option for an ARD committee’s consideration. The Director of Special Education or designee may visit the proposed facility prior to any final decisions regarding placement and complete the RTC placement application process as an administrative action to verify whether placement in an RTC is a viable option considering the student’s individual circumstances.

How does the Charter respond to a parent or guardian’s request for private placement when there is a disagreement regarding FAPE?

If the parents or guardians of a student with a disability, who previously attended the Charter, enroll the student in a private elementary school or secondary school without the consent of or referral by the Charter, a court or a hearing officer may require the Charter to reimburse the parents for the cost of that enrollment if the court or hearing officer finds that the Charter had not made FAPE available to the student in a timely manner prior to that enrollment, and that the private placement is appropriate. The cost of reimbursement may be reduced or denied:

- if, at the most recent ARD committee meeting that the parents or guardians attended prior to removal of the student from the Charter, the parents or guardian did not inform the ARD committee that they were rejecting the placement proposed by the Charter to provide FAPE to the student, including stating their concerns and their intent to enroll the student in a private school at public expense;
- if, at least 10 Charter business days (including any holidays that occur on a business day) prior to the removal of the student from the Charter, the parents or guardians did not give written notice to the Charter that they were withdrawing the student and seeking reimbursement from the Charter for the cost of the private school placement;
- if, prior to the parents or guardians' removal of the student from the Charter, the Charter informed the parents or guardians, through the notice requirements described in these Operating Procedures, of its intent to evaluate the student (including a statement of the purpose of the evaluation that was appropriate and reasonable), but the parents did not make the student available for the evaluation; or

- if a hearing officer or judge finds that the parents acted unreasonably.⁷⁰

PRACTICE GUIDE—The student’s campus special education staff may consider the need to conduct a District evaluation; schedule an ARD committee meeting to consider revisions to the student’s IEP to address the parents’ concerns and ensure the availability of FAPE to the student; request information from the student’s private school, and request from the parents any privately obtained evaluations.

What happens if an ARD committee meeting ends in disagreement?

All members of the student’s ARD committee shall have the opportunity to participate in a collaborative manner when developing the student’s IEP.⁷¹ A decision of the ARD committee concerning the required elements of the student’s IEP should be made by mutual agreement, if possible. No decision is made by majority vote. If a student’s ARD committee cannot reach consensus, the Special Education teacher or the ARD Facilitator shall provide the parents with Prior Written Notice of the ARD committee’s proposals and/or refusals and the basis of the disagreement.

When mutual agreement about all required elements of the IEP is not achieved, the parent who disagrees shall be offered a single opportunity to recess and reconvene the ARD committee meeting. The period of time for reconvening the ARD committee meeting shall not exceed 10 school days, unless the parties mutually agree otherwise. The ARD committee shall schedule the reconvened meeting at a mutually agreed upon time and place.⁷²

PRACTICE GUIDE—The ARD committee can recess a meeting for reasons other than disagreement. There is no mandate on time to return when the parties table for reasons other than reaching agreement on FAPE.

During the recess, the student’s ARD committee members⁷³ shall consider alternatives for any disputed educational programming, gather additional data, prepare further documentation, and/or obtain additional resource persons who may assist in enabling the ARD committee to reach mutual agreement, if possible.⁷⁴ The 10-day recess is not required when the student’s presence on the campus presents a danger of physical harm to the student or others or when the student has committed an expellable offense or an offense that may lead to placement in a DAEP.⁷⁵

PRACTICE GUIDE—The ARD committee may consider obtaining additional evaluation, retaining a consultant in an area of disagreement; offer the parent an opportunity to visit classrooms at issue; consider whether the issue of dispute could better be resolved administratively, such as personnel-related issues; consider training options; consider ARD facilitation and/or mediation to reach consensus; and ensure effective collaboration by reviewing rules of decorum and expectations for participation.

When mutual agreement is not reached, the Special Education teacher or the ARD Facilitator shall ensure that a written statement of the basis for the disagreement is thoroughly documented. Following Prior Written Notice, the Charter will implement the IEP that it has determined to be appropriate for the student.⁷⁶

When and how is a student's IEP updated?

In making changes to a student's IEP after the annual ARD committee meeting for a school year, a parent or guardian and the Charter may agree not to convene an ARD committee meeting for the purpose of making those changes, and instead may develop a written document to amend or modify the student's current IEP without a meeting. If changes are made to the student's IEP by IEP Amendment without a meeting, the Special Education teacher or the ARD Facilitator shall ensure that the student's ARD committee and the individuals responsible for the implementation of the student's IEP are informed of those changes. The Special Education teacher or the ARD Facilitator will provide the parent or guardian with Prior Written Notice of the amendments to the IEP.⁷⁸ Upon request, a parent or guardian shall be provided with a revised copy of the IEP with the amendments incorporated.⁷⁹

⁷⁹ 34 C.F.R. § 300.324(a)(6)

PRACTICE GUIDE—The District may consider using the IEP Amendment process to address changes to goals and objectives, accommodations, and supplementary aids and service. Whenever the District proposes to amend an IEP without a meeting, the District should ensure that the parent understands that the parent can choose not to agree, and instead have an IEP Team meeting. Changes in placement and manifestation determination reviews cannot be addressed via an IEP Amendment.

80

The student's ARD committee shall review and revise the student's IEP as follows:

- to periodically, but not less than annually, to determine whether the annual goals for the student are being achieved;
- to address any lack of expected progress toward the annual goals in the IEP and in the general education curriculum, if appropriate;
- to review the results of any reevaluation of the student or any information about the student provided to, or by, the parents or guardians, relevant to the student's program of special education and related services; and
- to consider the student's anticipated needs and other matters, as appropriate.⁸¹

How does the Charter ensure parents or guardians are included in the IEP development process?

Each ARD committee shall endeavor to ensure that a student's parent or guardian is included in the process of developing a student's IEP.⁸²

PRACTICE GUIDE—To facilitate collaboration, ARD committees are encouraged to create an atmosphere where parents are free to ask questions and share ideas during ARD committee meetings and to collaborate with parents as key stakeholders in the placement of students with disabilities.

Each student's Special Education teacher or the ARD Facilitator shall—

- Provide parents or guardians notice of all ARD committee meetings no later than 5 school days prior to each meeting (unless the parents or guardians agree to a shorter timeframe).⁸⁴ In addition to the date and time of the meeting, each meeting notice shall include a list of all meeting participants known at the time the notice is provided to the parent or guardian; a brief description of the purpose of the meeting; and the mode of participation (e.g., in-person or via tele- or video conferencing). A meeting for which parental notice is required does not include informal or unscheduled conversations involving Charter personnel and conversations on issues such as teaching methodology, lesson plans, or coordination of service provision. A meeting also does not include preparatory activities that Charter personnel engage in to develop a proposal or response to a parent or guardian proposal that will be discussed at a later ARD committee meeting.⁸⁵
- Schedule ARD committee meetings with parents or guardians at a mutually agreed time and place.⁸⁶
- Document all efforts to schedule an ARD committee meeting with parents or guardians. If no parent or guardian can participate in an ARD committee meeting, the Special Education teacher or the ARD Facilitator shall offer a parent or guardian the opportunity to participate in the meeting by tele- or video conferencing or other virtual means. The Charter may convene an ARD committee meeting without the involvement of a parent or guardian if the Special Education teacher or the ARD Facilitator is unable to convince the parents or guardians that they should attend. *Document and keep a record of attempts to arrange a mutually agreed upon time and place for the ARD committee meeting.*⁸⁷ These attempts may include—
 - Detailed records of telephone calls made or attempted and the results of those calls.
 - Copies of correspondence or e-mails sent to the parents or guardians and any responses received.

PRACTICE GUIDE—When the ARD committee provides the parent a copy of the IEP and Prior Written Notice generated from the meeting the parent did not attend, the ARD committee may offer to schedule another ARD committee meeting to review the ARD committee’s decisions with the non-attending parent. The District’s correspondence may note that the District welcomes and encourages parental participation.

- Ensure and document receipt by the parent or guardian of a copy of the procedural safeguards notice at least once a year, and also ⁸⁹
 - Upon initial referral or parental request for evaluation.⁹⁰
 - Upon the first occurrence of the filing of a due process hearing complaint.⁹¹

 - Before any mediation session or resolution session that is part of a special education due process hearing request.
 - Without unnecessary delay but in no case more than 45 days.⁹⁴

PRACTICE GUIDE—Unless the student’s parent is entitled to an audio recording of a student’s ARD committee meeting as outlined in CHILD FIND: Section 1.5, the District does not regularly record ARD committee meetings and does not maintain recordings of ARD committee meetings or other special education related meeting audio recordings as educational records in accordance with the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA). If a parent elects to record an ARD committee meeting, the parent must (1) inform the members of the ARD committee at the start of the ARD committee meeting that she or he is recording the meeting, and (2) upon request, provide the District with an unredacted copy of the audio recording. Each parent who records an ARD committee meeting in accordance with this procedure assumes responsibility for the audio recording and any claims or issues related thereto. The District reserves the option, at its discretion, to record an ARD committee meeting for administrative purposes. If the District does make an audio recording of an ARD committee meeting, upon request, the District will provide the parent with an unredacted copy of the audio recording. The District does not allow video recordings of meetings.

If a parent or guardian makes a written request for an ARD committee meeting, the Charter shall schedule the meeting as soon as appropriate under the circumstances, or within 5 school days provide a brief written explanation of why the Charter refuses to schedule the requested ARD committee meeting.⁹⁷ When a parent or guardian makes a written request for an ARD committee meeting, the Special Education teacher or the ARD Facilitator will provide the written explanation above or coordinate with the student’s parents, guardians, teachers and related service providers to schedule the ARD committee meeting.

PRACTICE GUIDE—The Director of Special Education or designee may consider some of these reasons for declining a parent’s request for an ARD committee meeting: personnel-related matters, extracurriculars, location of services, attendance and requirements related to public health and safety issues.

How does the Charter ensure that parents or guardians with emergent bilingual abilities are included in the IEP development process?

If the parent or guardian is one with emergent bilingual abilities and the parent or guardian’s native language is Spanish, the Charter will provide notices to the parent or guardian in Spanish. If the ⁹⁶ “IDEA does not address the use of audio or video recording devices at IEP meetings, and no other Federal statute either authorizes or prohibits the recording of an IEP meeting by either a parent or a school official. Therefore, [the Charter] has the option to require, prohibit, limit or otherwise regulate the use of recording devices at IEP meetings.” OSEP 2003.

parent or guardian's native language is other than English or Spanish, the Charter will make a good faith effort to provide notices to the parent or guardians in the parent or guardian's native language unless it is clearly not feasible to do so. The term "native language" means the language normally used by the parent or guardian.⁹⁸ Emergent Bilingual is equivalent to English Learner (EL) in the special education context.⁹⁹

If the parent or guardian is one with emergent bilingual abilities and the parent or guardian's native language is Spanish, the Charter will provide at any ARD committee meeting a person who is able to interpret for the parent or guardian. If a parent or guardian's native language is other than Spanish, the Charter will make a good faith effort to obtain an interpreter or translator to assist the parent or guardian.¹⁰⁰ The Special Education teacher or the ARD Facilitator shall coordinate to ensure that the parents or guardians of students with a disability whose native language is other than English are able to participate in the ARD committee meeting with the assistance of translators and interpreters, as appropriate. The Special Education teacher or the ARD Facilitator shall document these efforts in ARD committee documents and preserve in the student's special education file all written correspondence or communications logs with parents or guardians and other individuals regarding the Charter's efforts.

If the student's parent or guardian is unable to speak English and the parent or guardian's native language is Spanish, the Charter shall provide a written copy or audio recording of the student's IEP translated into Spanish.¹⁰¹ If the parent or guardian's native language is a language other than Spanish, the Charter shall make a good faith effort to provide the parent with a written copy or audio recording of the student's IEP translated into the parent or guardian's native language. When translating a student's IEP, all of the text in the student's IEP shall be accurately translated, resulting in a comparable rendition of the IEP in English and not a partial translation or summary.¹⁰²

How does the Charter ensure that a student's IEP is implemented?

After the IEP is written and a placement is determined, the Special Education teacher shall coordinate with the student's special and general education teachers and related service providers to ensure the student is provided the special education and related services identified in the IEP.¹⁰³ The Special Education teacher shall make the student's IEP accessible to each regular education teacher, special education teacher, related service provider, and any other service provider who is responsible for its implementation.¹⁰⁴ Additionally, Special Education teacher shall inform each regular teacher, special education teacher, related service provider, and any other service provider who is responsible for the implementation of the student's IEP, of each of her or his specific PRACTICE GUIDE—Teachers and other providers must comply with confidentiality requirements of FERPA and the District's Board Policy FL(Local).

The Special Education teacher shall maintain an eligibility folder for each student receiving special education services, in addition to the student's cumulative record. The eligibility folder shall include, but need not be limited to, copies of referral data; documentation of notices and consents; evaluation reports and supporting data; ARD committee reports; and the student's IEPs.¹⁰⁶

Each Special Education teacher shall ensure that each teacher who provides instruction to a student with disabilities:

- has access to the student's current IEP;
- is informed of the teacher's specific responsibilities related to implementation of the IEP, such as goals and objectives;
- is informed of needed accommodations, modifications, and supports for the student that must be provided for the student in accordance with the IEP; and
- has an opportunity to request assistance regarding implementation of the student's IEP.¹⁰⁷

Each campus shall develop a process to be used by a teacher who instructs a student with a disability in a regular classroom setting to:

- request a review of the student's IEP; and
- provide input in the development of the student's IEP.

Each Special Education teacher shall timely respond to the teacher's request; and provide for notification to the student's parent or guardian of the teacher's response.¹⁰⁸

PRACTICE GUIDE—The campus designee may provide the teacher with information regarding how to access student data, including a student's most recent IEP and the data discussed at the student's most recent ARD committee meeting, which may include accommodations and the student's BIP. The Director of Special Education will ensure that the District's electronic file retrieval system contains the appropriate student information in a readily accessible format for internal review. In some circumstances, it may be helpful to request acknowledgement of receipt or confirmation of review of relevant student data.

How does the Charter determine compensatory services for students whose FIIE was delayed or whose IEP was interrupted, reduced, delayed, suspended or discontinued during the 2019-2020 or 2020-2021 school years?

Special Education teacher will ensure that the IEP for each student who was enrolled in the Charter's special education program during the 2019-2020 or 2020-2021 school year, includes a written supplement that indicates whether that student's FIIE was completed during the 2019-2020 or 2020-2021 school year, and if so, whether the report was completed by the date required.^{110 111} The Special Education teacher or the ARD Facilitator will also, if applicable, indicate whether the student's initial IEP was developed by the date required by the Charter's Evaluation Procedure Operating Procedure.¹¹² The Special Education teacher or the ARD Facilitator will also indicate whether the provision of special education services to that student under an IEP during the 2019-2020 or 2020-2021 school year was interrupted, reduced, delayed, suspended, or discontinued.¹¹³

Based on these or any other factors, the ARD committee will determine and document whether compensatory educational services are appropriate for the student.^{114 115}

How does the Charter ensure adult students are included in the IEP development process?

At least one year before a student with a disability turns 18, the Special Education teacher or the ARD Facilitator shall ensure that the student's IEP contains a statement regarding the transfer of special education rights and responsibilities at the age of 18. The student's IEP shall also state that the student has been provided information and resources regarding guardianship, alternatives to guardianship, including a supported decision-making agreement and other supports and services that may enable the student to live independently. When the student turns 18, the Special Education teacher or the ARD Facilitator shall notify the adult student and her or his parent or guardian of the transfer of parental rights, and shall begin sending both the parent or guardian and student any notice required in these Operating Procedures.¹¹⁶

What happens when a student with an IEP graduates with a regular high school diploma?

Graduation from the Charter with a regular high school diploma terminates a student's eligibility to receive special education and related services.¹¹⁷ A student who receives special education services may graduate and be awarded a regular high school diploma if the student has demonstrated mastery of the required state standards (or Charter standards, if greater) and completed credit requirements (for graduation under the Foundation High School Program) specified in the Foundation High School Program that are applicable to students in general education, as well as satisfactory performance on the required state assessments, unless the student's ARD committee has determined that satisfactory performance on the required state assessments is not necessary for graduation.¹¹⁸

The Special Education teacher shall ensure that whenever a student's eligibility for special education and related services is terminated through receipt of a regular high school diploma or because the student no longer meets age eligibility requirements for special education and related services, the Special Education teacher shall provide the student a written summary of the student's then-present level of academic achievement and functional performance. This summary must consider, as appropriate, the views of the parent or guardian and student, and written recommendations from adult service agencies on how to assist the student in meeting postsecondary goals. An evaluation or REED shall be included as part of the summary.¹¹⁹

For students who receive a diploma based upon successful completion of the IEP and other relevant factors, the ARD committee shall determine needed educational services upon the request of the student or the student's parent or guardian to resume services, as long as the student meets the age eligibility requirements set out in the Charter's Child Find Duty Operating Procedure.¹²⁰

Are there limitations on the right to FAPE?

If the parent of a student enrolled in Premier High Schools or is seeking to be enrolled in the Charter does not provide consent for the student's full individual and initial evaluation, or the parent fails to respond to a request to provide consent, Premier High Schools may, but is not required to, pursue the initial evaluation of the child by utilizing the procedural safeguards under IDEA.

Premier High Schools will use reasonable efforts to obtain parental consent. Premier High Schools will also document its efforts to obtain parental consent, and maintain such documentation in the student's special education file. The level of effort shall be appropriate to the situation. The actions of Premier High Schools when seeking parental consent will reflect genuine effort and will include more than one effort or means. If the parent or guardian does not provide consent for the student's full individual and initial evaluation after the Charter has requested and sought to obtain such consent, the Charter does not violate its Child Find and FAPE obligations to the student, if the Charter declines to pursue the evaluation under these circumstances by requesting a due process hearing to override the parent's lack of consent.¹²¹

The Premier High Schools shall obtain informed consent from the parent or guardian of a student before the initial provision of special education and related services to the student. Premier High Schools will not construe consent for initial evaluation as consent for initial provision of special education and related services. The Special Education teacher or the ARD Facilitator shall make reasonable efforts to obtain informed consent from the parent or guardian for the initial provision of special education and related services; however, if the parent or guardian fails to respond to a request for, or refuses to consent to, the initial provision of special education and related services, Premier High Schools cannot seek to override the parent's refusal to consent to the initial provision of special education and related services to the student. If the parent does not provide informed written consent for the initial provision of special education and related services, Premier High Schools will not be considered to be in violation of the requirement to make FAPE available to the student because of the failure to provide the student with the special education and related services for which the parent refuses to or fails to provide consent. Premier High Schools is also not required to convene an ARD committee meeting or develop an IEP for the student.¹²²

If, at any time subsequent to the initial provision of special education and related services, the parent or guardian of a student revokes consent in writing for the continued provision of special education and related services, Texas College Preparatory Academies:

- may not continue to provide special education and related services to the student, but shall provide Prior Written Notice, including TEA's Notice of Procedural Safeguards, before ceasing the provision of special education and related services;
- may not use the dispute resolution procedures in IDEA in order to obtain agreement or a ruling that the services may be provided to the student;
- will not be considered to be in violation of the requirement to make FAPE available to the student because of the failure to provide the student with further special education and related services; and
- is not required to convene an ARD committee meeting or develop an IEP for further provision of special education and related services.¹²³

Unless a parent or guardian has enrolled a student in private school as described in Section 3.6, above, that student's enrollment in a private school relieves Premier High Schools of any responsibility for the provision of a FAPE,¹²⁴ TEA, and therefore Premier High Schools, does not regulate, index, monitor, approve, register, or accredit the programs available to parents who choose to home school. This is consistent with the Texas Supreme Court decision rendered in Texas Education Agency v. Leeper.¹²⁵

How does the Charter provide FAPE via virtual or remote instruction?

In accordance with guidance from the TEA, each student's Special Education teacher or the ARD Facilitator is encouraged to offer to convene ARD committee meetings to develop emergency contingency plans as part of a student's IEP that provides for virtual or other remote services and instruction during periods of cessation of normal school operations in response to a natural disaster, pandemic and/or other public health and safety crisis in accordance with federal, state and local authorities. A student's Special Education teacher or an ARD Facilitator may also propose that a student's ARD committee and the parent(s) or guardian(s) agree to modify a student's IEP to include a separate schedule of related services and accommodations that will be followed during periods of remote or virtual instruction. Each the Special Education teacher, together with input from the parent or guardian and the student's ARD committee, may choose to use the model Special Education Emergency Contingency Plan developed by the TEA or other plan as determined by the Charter.

According to nonbinding guidance from OSEP on September 28, 2020, ARD committees should consider—

- “how a student's IEP will be implemented with traditional in-person instruction
- how services also could be provided through remote/distance instruction if circumstances require a change to distance learning or a hybrid model.”¹²⁶

When ARD committees make these determinations, the ARD committee, together with the parent or guardian, may also consider:

- alternate available instructional methodologies or delivery;
- online instruction, teleconference, direct instruction via telephone or videoconferencing; and
- consultative services to the parent, if feasible and appropriate.¹²⁷

The Director of Special Education or designee will investigate all appropriate assessment instruments and tools to determine if some can be administered or completed remotely during the natural disaster, pandemic and/or other public health and safety crisis, provided that evaluation of the student is based on personal observation (whether in person or through tele- or videoconferencing).

The Director of Special Education or designee may coordinate with the developers of their current assessment instruments to determine if the instruments can be administered or completed remotely, without significantly impacting the validity and reliability of the results. Tests and other evaluation materials must be used for the purposes for which the assessments or measures are valid and reliable, and must be administered by trained and knowledgeable personnel in accordance with any instructions provided by the producer of the assessments.¹²⁸

Demonstrations of this procedure's implementation may include, but are not limited to, examples such as:

- Training materials
- ARD committee reports
- ARD committee meeting invitations and notices
- The results of the student's initial or most recent evaluation; and the present academic, developmental, and functional needs of the student.
- Assessment data presented for considered by the ARD committee, including both state and Charter-wide assessment results, as well as other relevant information from the campus.
- Privately obtained assessments provided by the student's parent or guardian
- Forms demonstrating the Charter's request for consent for disclosure between the campus and private service providers
- Formal and/or informal evaluations provided by the Charter or the student's parents or guardians in connection with consideration of Extended School Year eligibility
